

Haunting at the Old Mill

From BrickRoad Productions, written by Steve Pierce

Live “taping,” Ghost Hunting Show

There’s something spooky in the air, and it smells like . . . ghosts. Join Minerva Balthasar and her crack paranormal investigation team at the Old Mill, where clients and staff alike are terrified by reports of ghostly sightings. Meanwhile, the Old Mill’s new co-owner Jo struggles to pull off a dinner party despite ghosts, sarcastic waiters and cameramen with boundary issues. It’s spooky, twisted fun hunting for ghosts at the Old Mill, and you can be a part of the investigation in the debut performance of this brand-new, very weird comedy from your friends at BrickRoad Productions.
