A little Murder for the Holidays!

By Steve Henderson

A Murder Mystery Comedy From BrickRoad Productions

Some of the elves who usually work up at “you-know-who’s” workshop up in the North Pole have arrived with bad news: the Polar Department of Toy Inspection could very well end up shutting down the toy shop just in time to ruin the holidays. Then again, they might end up in murder! Three very funny elves tell you all about it, while a peculiar detective tries to get to the bottom of the whole mess. Lots of interaction, hilarious jokes and madcap antics make this show an outright laugh riot.
